ABOUT VERGE

New Studios | New Classrooms | New Opportunities!

Welcome to Verge Center for the Arts, a nonprofit organization and a leading cultural institution in the Sacramento region for contemporary art and ideas. Our mission is to extend the dialogue about contemporary art throughout the Central Valley. We support this mission by providing vital resources to local, career, and emerging artists while also offering arts education opportunities for youth and adults.

Thanks to the California Natural Resources Agency's Museum Grant Program, Verge was able to undertake a major multi-year construction project, which has now been completed! This project allowed for the expansion of our educational and studio spaces, along with additional facility improvements to enhance the quality and functionality of our programs, including Clay Lab and other day-to-day amenities.

When you visit, be sure to check out our gift shop, which has been refreshed with a new look featuring artwork and items from local artists. We're excited to welcome you to Verge and share these new spaces with our community! To learn more, please visit us at vergecontemporary.org.

WELCOME...

to the 21st annual Sac Open Studios Tour, an inside look into over 270 innovative artistic practices happening across the greater Sacramento region.

Verge Center for the Arts is proud to present our largest annual public program, extending beyond our walls to connect local artists with art enthusiasts in our regional community. This year, the self-guided tour takes place September 12th–13th and September 19th–20th, with each weekend featuring different areas of Sacramento to explore, discover, and engage with! We invite you to take full advantage of this free self-guided artist directory and maps to plan your route and visit all the amazing artists who have registered this year. Additionally, if you would like to learn more about the participating artists or prefer to navigate the tour on your mobile device, visit our virtual offerings at sacopenstudios.com or by scanning the QR code below.

We also welcome you to visit Verge Center for the Arts to view the Preview Exhibition, which opens September 10th and features work by participating artists throughout the run of Sac Open Studios.

A huge thanks to all of you for supporting our creative community by attending Sac Open Studios each year, we could not do it without you! Like all of our programs, Verge aims to make contemporary art more accessible and support the practitioners who inspire and enliven our communities! We look forward to seeing you out and about for another successful Sac Open Studios!

Participants will leave with a greater appreciation for band posters and graphic tees and walk away two hand-pulled prints richer! No previous art experience required!

Jane Hastings AKA Ms. Jane 224 | WKND 2

I have been an artist my entire life, falling in love with Van Gogh at a very early age. I have worked in publishing, created CD and Zine covers, poster art for bands, mini self-published books, set and costume designs, miniature art cards and much more. I recently retired from teaching art to Elementary school students for 20+ years... Never stop learning!

Jaime Luna 117D | WKND 1

I am a contemporary oil painter with a studio practice at the Atelier, Sacramento's newest artist space and gallery. My first solo exhibition, Groundwork, opens at the Atelier this October. It features textural allegories emphasizing the ground we walk on.

Joel Higgins 248C | WKND 2

Joel Higgins is a ceramic artist working in stoneware clay with a focus on wheel thrown forms fired with various alternative methods such as raku, saggar, and pit fire. His work captures stunning atmospheric effects on the clay surface without the use of traditional glazes, seeking the chance encounter of pot, flame and vapor at the ideal moment. Joel currently teaches Saggar firing workshops for members of ACAI, his beloved local ceramic studio in Fair Oaks, CA and sells his work locally.

Sarah Kreutz 122 | WKND 1

A self-taught artist, Sarah has painted with oils for over 25 years.

Her abstract/tonalist landscapes are a complex process of layering a limited color palette of oils and glazes on wood panel and the occasional canvas.

Each layer is then allowed to sit and dry—sometimes several weeks or even months.

Through a burnishing process, the image is uncovered through the use of distress, peering through the layers and becoming a piece that focuses on evoking mood and atmosphere.

Deborah Kelly 267J | WKND 2

I've worked as an ink, paint and camera artist for Hanna Barbera, and numerous newspapers doing illustrations. The past 15 years as a jewelry instructor for Michaels, and local community centers. Currently I am an active member of the MACC, and have exhibited and won several competitions.

Cathy Cederlind 113D | WKND 1

Cathy creates highly embellished beaded jewelry and textural mix media artwork. Most jewelry designs are one of a kind using bead embroidery and off loom beading techniques. Textural Mixed Media artwork is created using various materials and methods including Tyvek, repurposed items, embroidery, paper making and felting. Often, felted Joomchi is used as base for her Mixed Media art. Cathy's work has an organic presence as she lets her materials guide her through the process of making art. Cathy began marketing her jewelry in 2006 and mixed media art in 2012. Cathy displays her jewelry and artwork in her studio at Arthouse on R Gallery and Studios.

Where Art & Community Meet

For more than eight years, the MACC has been a place where artists and the community come together to honor the arts in all their forms. Each month, the MACC presents concerts by local bands—often for less than the cost of a Starbucks coffee—along with artist talks that offer insight into creative passions and processes. New exhibitions regularly showcase the work of regional artists, complemented by traveling shows from renowned institutions such as the Smithsonian Institution.

Whether you want to take an art workshop, watch a documentary, enjoy a concert, or simply wander through the galleries and soak in the MACC's vibrant atmosphere, there is always something inspiring waiting for you.

Verge Heroes

Producing high-caliber programs, events, workshops, and exhibitions would not be possible without the support of our community. Verge's members, patrons, and attendees enable us to maintain Verge as a place for art, ideas, exploration, and inspiration. We are privileged and honored to be part of such a dedicated, creative, and supportive community. We extend a special thank you to the James and Susan McClatchy Fund of the Sacramento Region Community Foundation for their generous match on this year's Big Day of Giving.

This list includes all donors, higher-level members, and program sponsors without whose support Verge would not be possible. In today's landscape, the power of connection is more important than ever. To those on this list who have committed their time, dedication, and financial support, we extend our sincerest gratitude and admiration. It is because of you that we can foster, support, and celebrate the arts in Sacramento and beyond. Cheers to you all!

LET'S OPEN MORE DOORS TOGETHER FOR SAC OPEN STUDIOS.

For over two decades, Sac Open Studios has transformed our region's private backyards and warehouse lofts into a free, collective gallery featuring more than 270 local creators. Let's invest in Sacramento's cultural fabric together to fund the critical mapping, infrastructure, and printed guides that keep this citywide tradition vibrant, accessible, and completely open to all.
